ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE: BENEFITS AND PITFALLS

Dr. Shrikant V. Sonekar

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is succeeding at all the fronts of technology, right from speech interpretation and recognition interface to self-driving cars. It is one of the top-most technologies having huge potential in the present times as well as the future. In broad terms, Artificial Intelligence is the ability of a computer program to learn and think. The opportunity for innovation, modernisation and development in AI is enormous and it will keep changing the world in diverse ways in the future. Involvement of AI is everywhere, right from space exploration to advancements in defence systems and more. The technology is expanding progressively, and it has the potential to be more intelligent than ever. The phrase "human error" came into existence because humans make mistakes as and when they learn. On the contrary, computers, if properly programmed, don't make mistakes. When AI is used, decisions are taken from the previously gathered information applying a certain set of algorithms. So errors are reduced and accuracy is achieved with a greater degree of precision. AI is not restricted to only robots with human characteristics, it encompass anything from Google's search algorithms to IBM's Watson to autonomous weapons.

What is Artificial Intelligence?

In broad sense, Artificial Intelligence is a branch of computer science wherein smart machines are built in such a manner that they respond and behave like humans. The purpose of building an intelligent system, machine or robot is to support the decision making process which is completely analysed, based on the data that is available with the organization. The entire process of building an intelligent system is same as that of humans blending the information and providing suitable decision. The only difference is that in case of AI, the decision making is reached by analysing tons of generated and gathered data. Technocrats have categorized AI into two parts - Narrow AI and General AI. The former is designed to accomplish basic tasks or to outperform the basic human task such as facial recognition, playing chess, solving equations, internet searches or only driving car. The later one is meant to design cognitive, intellectual, perceptive and rational task.

Many vocations involve performing repetitive works like sending thank you email, verifying certain documents for errors etc. For example, verification of documents for processing loans, etc. The feature of AI Cognitive Automation helps to speed up the process of verifying the documents. Some of the highly advanced organizations use digital assistants to interact with users which save the need for human resources. Digital assistants are also used in many websites and mobile applications to attend to users' queries. We can chat with them about what we are looking for. Some chat bots are designed in such a way that it becomes hard to determine that we are chatting with a chat bot or a human being.

Artificial Intelligence incorporates both Machine Learning and Data Science

AI has many inferences, depending on the specific industry it is used in. Most often, when people say AI, what they generally mean is Machine Learning. The

What is Cinematography?

Giving visuals to the Director's vision describes the role of a Cinematographer. A vocation that conjures up images of snow-capped peaks, low lying clouds in a mist captured in slow motion or time-lapse, action unfolding in hot sultry sand dunes, brightly lit comedy capers, moodily drawn images in shadows of a thriller. All of these aiding visually to the drama unfolding in a darkened theatre or in your dimly lit space in front of your viewing screens. One has to have a passion for cinema, the art and its history to thoroughly enjoy and take up Cinematography as a profession. Cinematographer, Director of Photography (DOP), and few other such titles go along with your name, in accordance to your experience and your seniority in the field. Living legend Roger Deakins says, "Apart from capturing the Director's vision, the other part to figure out for the

From early '60s to '90s, the cinema was totally analogue. Everything from the shooting to editing, to sound and final release was on celluloid. Cinema had to its credit an overall history of 100 years and more, to have survived from its silent era to its 70 mm and IMAX extravaganza in the millennium. The format evolved from 8mm, to 9mm, then to 12.5mm and 16mm and 35mm and eventually got standardized as 8mm for home movies, 16mm for documentaries and low budget features, and 35mm for big theatre releases. As the digital era dawned, celluloid and mechanical movement cameras have got replaced with electronics and digital sensors instead. Basics are the same. Earlier, light passing through a lens attached to the camera hit and set off a chemical reaction to the celluloid strip. Now, in digital camera, light hits a sensor where science and algorithms set off a manipulation and replica of how the eyes see and perceive color.

After the Director and Art Director, the most important person then on the set was and now still is the Cinematographer. Their job profile entails thorough knowledge of film stocks available, kind of cameras and its functioning, understanding lighting to play with lights and shadows to evoke a mood, intrinsic design sense for sets or outdoor locations, and framing and composition to give meaningful visuals to the Director's vision. Cinematography is taught as an art form and as a vocation at two prestigious Indian film schools - FTII (Film and Television Institute of India), Pune and SRFTI (Satyajit Ray Film and Television Institute), Kolkata. There are introductory short courses available online on FTII website, under their initiative called SKIFT (Skill India in Film and Television), which can help one

SIX YEARS OF DIGITAL INDIA

Digital India is an umbrella programme that was launched by the Government of India in 2015 with the vision to transform India into a digitally empowered society and knowledge economy. The initiative weaves together a large number of ideas and thoughts into a single, comprehensive vision so that each of them can be implemented as part of a larger goal. Digital India aims to provide the much-needed thrust to the nine pillars of growth areas, namely Broadband Highways, Universal Access to Mobile Connectivity, Public Internet Access Programme, e-Governance: Reforming Government through Technology, e-Kranti- Electronic Delivery of Services, Information for All, Electronics Manufacturing, IT for Jobs and Early Harvest Programmes.

Let us look at some of the several important initiatives undertaken by the Government in line with the vision of Digital India.

1. AADHAAR

Aadhaar identity platform is one of the key pillars of Digital India, wherein every resident of the country is provided with a unique identity or Aadhaar number. The largest biometrics-based identification system in the world, Aadhaar is a strategic policy tool for social and financial inclusion, public sector delivery reforms, managing fiscal budgets, increase convenience and promote hassle-free people-centric governance. It is unique and robust enough to eliminate duplicate or fake identities and may be used as a basis/primary identifier to roll out several Government welfare schemes and programmes for effective service delivery thereby promoting transparency and good governance.

2. BHARATNET

One of the biggest rural telecom projects in the world, BharatNet aims to connect all

Gram Panchayats with Broadband. The aim is to connect six lakh villages in 1,000 days within the target date of May 2023. As compared to 2014, when only 59 Gram Panchayats had Broadband, 1.55 lakh Gram Panchayats are now connected with Optical Cable Fibre under BharatNet. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, in his address on the occasion of 74th Independence Day said, that "Participation of rural India and villages in Digital India is very important for balanced development of India."

3. MYGOV

MyGov is a citizen engagement platform that disseminates authentic information on Government policies, programmes, schemes, guidelines, SOPs, etc. to citizens in a citizen-friendly format through social media platforms. It is a unique first-of-its-kind participatory governance initiative involving the common citizen at large. The idea of MyGov brings the government closer to the common people by the use of online platform creating an interface for healthy exchange of ideas and views involving the common citizen and experts with the ultimate goal to contribute to the social and economic transformation of India. MyGov has over 1.82 crore registered users. During the COVID-19 pandemic, MyGov is also working as a crowdsourcing platform for medical equipment and essentials. The Government also launched India's first Artificial Intelligence-enabled MyGov Corona Helpdesk to provide latest information, curb rumours, and misinformation.

4. AAROGYA SETU

The world's most downloaded COVID-19 tracking app, Aarogya Setu works as guiding light for the Government to identify hotspots, aiding in curbing the spread of the infection. The app augments the initiatives of Government of India, particularly the Department of Health, in proactively reaching out to and informing the users of the app regarding risks, best practices, and relevant advisories pertaining to COVID-19. If one makes a first or a second-degree contact with a COVID-19 positive person, Aarogya Setu alerts them and gets them timely medical help. The self-assessment test also helps one in identifying possibilities of infection.

5. CoWIN

India developed CoWIN as the central IT system for strategizing, implementing, monitoring, and evaluation of COVID19 vaccination. CoWIN is the digital backbone for the vaccination drive in India. CoWIN helps citizens in finding vaccination centres as per the vaccine availability and online vaccination slot booking. The platform also issues a universally verifiable digital certificate post vaccination. As on June 30, 2021, over 30 crore registrations had been completed through CoWIN. Recently, many countries have shown interest in using this platform.

6. e-AUSHADHI

e-AUSHADHI (Ayurveda, Unani, Siddha and Homeopathy Automated Drug Help Initiative) portal supports the fight against COVID-19 with increased transparency and accountability for medical supplies across India. The portal has benefitted States in ensuring to save costs by 20% by a scientific forecasting system. The portal also aids in streamlining warehouse management, quality management, equipment inventory management, equipment complaint chain management, equipment auction life cycle, human resource and finance management.

7. TELE-LAW

Tele-Law scheme is an effort to make legal aid accessible to the marginalized communities and citizens residing in rural areas. The scheme envisages the use of communications and IT for the delivery of legal information and advice. This is a medium of e-interaction between lawyers and citizens through video-conferencing or telephone/phone mode. 8,63,755 beneficiaries registered and 8,41,293 received advice (till May 2021). Beneficiaries include 2,59,347 women, 2,06,534 people from Scheduled Caste, 1,68,677 from Scheduled Tribe, and 2,52, 208 from Other Backward Classes.

8. DIGILOCKER

DigiLocker is a secure cloud-based platform for issuance, sharing and verification of critical lifelong documents or certificates. It has created a new paradigm for true paperless governance. Currently, DigiLocker provides access (anytime, anywhere) to more than 347 crore digital documents (legally accepted as originals) issued from over 100 issuers comprising of Central and State agencies such as Transport Department, IT Department, State and Central Education Boards, etc. DigiLocker aids in faster delivery of all Government benefits, employment, financial inclusion, education, health and more. It also brings ease of doing business for various agencies, as it enables Government agencies to verify data directly from issuers after obtaining user consent.

9. FASTAG

FASTag is a device that employs Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) technology for making toll payments directly while the vehicle is in motion. FASTag (RFID Tag) is affixed on the windscreen of the vehicle and enables a customer to make the toll payments directly from the account which is linked to FASTag. It offers the convenience of cashless payment along with benefits like-savings on fuel and time as the customer does not has to stop at the toll plaza.

10. UMANG

UMANG (Unified Mobile Application for New-Age Governance) is a common, unified platform and mobile app that facilitates a single point of access to all Government services. Its primary aim is to abridge inconvenience faced by users in managing multiple mobile apps. UMANG brings over 1,200 Central & State Government services as well as more than 20,000 bill payment services-all at one place. UMANG is integrated with Aadhaar, DigiLocker, Payment Gateway, SMS/E-mail Gateway, etc. to offer end-to-end digital/online delivery of services. Since its launch in 2016, UMANG app has come a long

4 Years of GST : Significance & Impact

Born out of the need to have a nation wide simple and transparent system of taxation to enable the Indian industry to complete not only internationally, but also in the domestic market, the historic tax reform was first rolled out on 1st July, 2017.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has lauded GST on its completion of four years and said it has been a milestone in the economic landscape of India. In a tweet, the Prime Minister said, "GST has decreased the number of taxes, compliance burden & overall tax burden on common man while significantly increasing transparency, compliance and overall collection."

What is GST?

GST is one indirect tax for the whole nation, which will make India one unified common market. GST is a single tax on the supply of goods and services, right from the manufacturer to the consumer. Credits of input taxes paid at each stage will be available in the subsequent stage of value addition, which makes GST essentially a tax only on value addition at each stage. The final consumer will thus bear only the GST charged by the last dealer in the supply chain, with set-off benefits at all the previous stages.

What does GST mean for

i. Business and Industry?

- ◆ Easy compliance: A robust and comprehensive IT system is the foundation of the GST regime in India. All taxpayer services such as registrations, returns, payments, etc. are available to the taxpayers online, which makes compliance easy and transparent.
- ◆ Uniformity of tax rates and structures: GST ensures that indirect tax rates and structures are common across the country, thereby increasing certainty and ease of doing business. In other words, GST makes doing business in the country tax neutral, irrespective of the choice of place of doing business.
- ◆ Removal of cascading: A system of seamless tax-credits throughout the value-chain, and across boundaries of States, ensures that there is minimal cascading of taxes. This reduces hidden costs of doing business.
- ◆ Improved competitiveness: Reduction in transaction costs of doing business eventually leads to an improved competitiveness for the trade and industry.
- ◆ Gain to manufacturers and exporters: The subsuming of major Central and State taxes in GST, complete and comprehensive set-off of input goods and services and phasing out of Central Sales Tax (CST) reduces the cost of locally manufactured goods and services. This increases the competitiveness of Indian goods and services in the international market and gives a boost to Indian exports. The uniformity in tax rates and procedures across the country also goes a long way in reducing the compliance cost.

ii. Central and State Governments?

- ◆ Simple and easy to administer: Multiple indirect taxes at the Central and State levels were replaced by GST. Backed with a robust end-to-end IT system, GST is simpler and easier to administer than all other indirect taxes of the Centre and State levied so far.
- ◆ Better controls on leakage: GST has resulted in better tax compliance due to a robust IT infrastructure. Due to the seamless transfer of input tax credit from one stage to another in the

Which taxes at the Centre and State level were subsumed into GST?

At the Central level:

- Central Excise Duty
- Additional Excise Duty
- Service Tax
- Additional Customs Duty, commonly known as Countervailing Duty
- Special Additional Duty of Customs

At the State level:

- Subsuming of State Value Added Tax/Sales Tax
- Entertainment Tax (other than the tax levied by the local bodies), chain of value addition, there is an inbuilt mechanism in the design of GST that incentivizes tax compliance by traders. On the occasion of the completion of four years of GST, the Union Finance Ministry issued appreciation letters to over 54,000 GST payers for timely filing of returns and a cash payment of tax.

- ◆ Higher revenue efficiency: GST has decreased the cost of collection of tax revenues of the Government, and thus, led to higher revenue efficiency.

iii. The Consumer?

- ◆ Single and transparent tax proportionate to the value of goods and services: Due to multiple indirect taxes being levied by the Centre and State, with incomplete or no input tax credits available at progressive stages of value addition, the cost of most goods and services in the country used to be laden with many hidden taxes. GST ensured only one tax from the manufacturer to the consumer, leading to transparency of taxes paid to the final consumer.
- ◆ Relief in overall tax burden: Because of efficiency gains and prevention of leakages, the overall tax burden on most commodities has come down to the benefit of the consumers.

- Central Sales Tax (levied by the Centre and collected by the States)
- Octroi and Entry tax
- Purchase Tax
- Luxury tax
- Taxes on lottery, betting and gambling.

What has been the impact of GST?

India's tax base has almost doubled from Rs. 66.25 lakh to Rs. 1.28 crore in the last four years. According to the Union Finance Ministry, GST revenue collection in India has been over the Rs. 1,00,000 crore-mark for eight consecutive months in a row with as much as Rs. 1,02,702 crore collected in May alone. This is despite the fact that many states remain under strict COVID-19-enforced lockdown.

GST has significantly eased one of the most complex indirect tax systems in the world. A company looking to do business in every state had to make as many as 495 different submissions. Under GST, that number has reduced to just 12.

GST has reduced the rate at which people have to pay tax. The revenue neutral rate as recommended by the RNR (Revenue neutral rate) Committee was 15.3%. Compared to this, the weighted GST rate at present, according to the RBI, is only 11.6%.

GST is both consumer and taxpayer-friendly. While high tax rates of the pre-GST era acted as a disincentive to paying tax, the lower rates under GST helped to increase tax compliance. More than 66 crore GST returns have been filed so far. Under GST, compliance has also been improving steadily, with around 1.3 crore taxpayers registered.

Today, businesses with an annual turnover of up to Rs. 40 lakh are GST exempt (for goods). Initially, this limit was Rs. 20 lakh. Additionally, those with a turnover up to Rs. 1.5 crore can opt for the Composition Scheme and pay only 1% tax (for goods). For services, businesses with turnover upto Rs. 20 lakh in a year are GST exempt. A service provider having turnover upto Rs. 50 lakh in a year can opt for composition scheme for services and pay only 6% tax.

In light of COVID-19, taxpayers were given certain compliance-related relaxations to ease their burden. Relief was provided by way of payment deferrals, reduced interest rate, and waiver of late fee/capping of late fee to Rs. 500 in certain cases.

The GST Council decided to slash the GST rate on several key COVID-19 essential supplies so as to provide relief to citizens during the pandemic. A 5% GST cut was given for medical grade oxygen, Remdesivir, Heparin (anti-coagulant), COVID-19 testing kits, inflammatory diagnostic kits, hand sanitizers, helmets (non-invasive ventilation), gas/electric/other furnaces for crematorium (including their installation), pulse oximeter, high-flow nasal cannula device, oxygen concentrators/generators, ventilators, BiPAP machine, temperature check equipment. A 12% cut was announced for ambulances and no GST for Tocilizumab and Amphotericin B.

On the recommendations of the Council, exemptions from IGST to import of specific COVID-19-related relief goods such as medical oxygen, oxygen concentrators, and other oxygen storage and transportation equipment, certain diagnostic markers, test kits, and vaccines, meant for donating to Government or any other relief agencies on the recommendation of State authorities till August 31, 2021.

The GST Council recommended several trade beneficial clarifications in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. One of them was related to Anganwadis. It was clarified that GST is not applicable on services supplied to an educational institution, including Anganwadi, by way of serving of food/catering irrespective of its funding from Government grants or through corporate donations.

The GST Composition Scheme was revamped over the years. Service providers were included under the Scheme, and the limit for manufacturers and traders was increased from Rs. 1 crore to Rs. 1.5 crore a year. These measures benefitted more than 25 lakh taxpayers. With effect from FY 2019-20, the Composition Scheme was extended to suppliers of services (up to Rs. 50 lakh turnover). Further, the composition taxpayers were allowed to furnish returns on an annual basis as against quarterly as was the case earlier.

decide if learning and practicing Cinematography as a profession is for you or not.

Cinematography then...

The motion picture industry has changed a lot in the past 10-15 years from the conventional way of celluloid base (the physical handling of camera negative and print film) changing to its current digital avatar. In the early days of cinema, only the Cinematographer during a film shoot would know what and how the scene in front of the camera was being captured, as it was his technical knowledge of film stock and a keen eye, through the viewfinder, which helped him see the action unfold and get imprinted on the negative as the camera whirred. There was no other method to 'monitor' the day's proceedings other than getting the day's work processed in the laboratory and seeing the 'rushes' in the evening or the next day. Subsequently, as technology and electronics improved, the Director got a chance to "tap" into the camera and 'video assist' became the norm in monitoring the day's proceedings during a shoot. This was in early '70s and '80s. From the year 2000 onwards, the digital era dawned and completely changed the way films were shot, monitored and exhibited.

- Lights rental house
 - Camera equipment rental store
 - Digital Imaging Technician (DIT)
 - Colorist
 - Post Production supervisor / technical expert for a channel or OTT platforms
- Among these options, the most lucrative one is DIT.

What and who is a DIT?

DIT is a term or a position given to the person on the film set, who handles the exact BITS and BYTES transfer of your digital image acquired from the camera (the image files) and also the simultaneous sync sound files from the audio station along with footage from the guy doing the 'making' of the film or the BTS (Behind the Scene) footage on a film shoot. Basically a data wrangler. Looks and sounds easy - copy and paste the image and audio file. Well, it's a highly responsible job, once you know and understand the duties of a DIT and the stuff he or she does. You should be ready to slog and work from an outdoor location like a street, a parking lot, a remote corner of a constructed set or a plush hotel room, as may be demanded by the tough outdoor/indoor locations of the film being shot. The need for the DIT came when the digital cameras were able to give out RAW and other optional digital file formats as image to the camera cards. These Cinematography now...

The new digital cameras and their recorded file systems eased the process and made it convenient to show the image to the camera team, the production team, the direction team and the Producers. Various tents and areas are created where different sets of people view the day's proceedings and take collective decisions. The video assist person mostly catered to this, during the video tap days. But in this digital cinema age, there has to be more than just allowing yourself to be a Cinematographer. The 2-3 years spent in a film school learning about film-making and specializing in your craft gives you more opportunity than just being a 'camera person' that you do become. The knowledge you pick up also helps you in becoming an entrepreneur. You can become an entrepreneur by doing one or all of the following:

- Steadicam or any image stabilizing equipment operator/provider
- Aerial and drone systems operator/provider
- Motion control systems operator/provider

cards were similar to the earlier exposed film rolls. How to read them, how to see the true color rendition of the recorded shot in the camera was what the whole issue was about and more.

Benefits of having a DIT on shoot

Coordination of post production requires communication with a variety of different people, understanding expectations of each department like sound, edit, VFX and final color correction respectively.

Technical management and post production work flow: The process requires a person to liaison with all units including recipients of file based material at the end of the shoot, ruling out unforeseen surprises and cost. For example, what kind of transcoded files to make which are easy to use on any editing software. After the edit lock and EDL, will the RAW files match the proxy files and open up in a post production digital imaging facility later - one has to think that much ahead of the pre-production stage. The DIT also makes suggestions to shorten the post-production time according to the budget and easy turn around with best RAW image options.

On-set Workflow: Ensuring correct use of camera technology (different cameras, formats, codecs, bit depth, transfer data rate etc). Security of footage transferred (a day's costing for the shoot depends on this simple but highly crucial process), so right gear and equipment for the above job is the key. Dragging and elements that the DIT should be able to provide is - security of footage, transcoding of footage in any easily playable codec for edit or daily rushes, on-set color management, for 'Look'/ applied LUT in consultation with DOP, and Live raw assessment for quick turnaround of location and setup change.

dropping the files from the camera card is the unsafe method to do the transfer. Ancillary softwares with 'check sum' facility are needed to correlate bits and bytes as recorded and as transferred and backed up. Guaranteed transfer of every bit of shot material on the recorded camera card to a safe sturdy hard drive and its backups. Visual verification of transferred material in a quickest manner possible so that timely intervention is done in case of anything going wrong, before any setup is changed during a shoot. Earlier, during a video tap it was an auto exposure recorded footage on tape or a DVD disc, not helping you judge the accuracy of aperture, contrast and legal limits of highlight and shadows, which now is possible in real time.

DIT ensures that the day's work is securely and effectively backed up as master backup and two backup copy using paid software such as Shotput Pro, Silverstack or DaVinci Resolve free version for cloning.

DIT caters to the DOP and the Cinematographer by supervising a team of assistants and focus puller to check technical consistency of the digital camera codecs, aspect ratio, file formats, naming conventions and warn the team of any issue coming up, handling multiple formats and different cameras, matching look and consistency, designing a LUT along with the DOP.

Any mistake or oversight (soft focus, dead pixels, dirt on lenses or filters etc.) spotted at the shoot stage is better than spending millions later to correct them. The DIT works with the production team and Producers by safely giving back ups and answering questions and doubts regarding technical aspects of digital cinema for the uninitiated. DIT caters to the Director by lining up the edit or day's rushes to evaluate at home. DIT caters to the first Assistant Director/ Script Supervisor/ first and second assistant camera to check all mentioned shots in continuity and to ensure that script supervisor reports and camera reports have been transferred before the camera cards are given back for reformatting. DIT helps the editing crew in transcoding proxy files of the day's work to be easily playable on edit software. So the basic

DIT setup

Depending on the above, the team can decide, as per the budget of the production, an independent setup or a setup for mid level or high budget film, whether the production has a need of just a data wrangler to just transfer copy backup of footage, or a DIT along with the data wrangler for quality control of footage and transcoding, or a Senior DIT - all of the above and on set color management and workflow involvement. Depending on the above 3 scenarios, the person will be coming to the set with necessary hardware, software options, justifying their involvement and the budget.

Qualities a DIT must have

Thorough knowledge of the science of digital filmmaking is a must. A cinematography student or a practicing professional is best suited for this job as one has to have that knowledge of all digital cameras, knowledge of computers and its associated hardware and software and also of color theory. This can later create an opportunity for growth as a Colorist too. Most importantly, a DIT should possess the skill of an effective team member and have the ability to take certain decisions which can save the day and money on a film set. Basically, apart from creating backup of the footage for the Producers, the DIT liaisons with the DOP and his team to get the best out of the camera. The DIT should understand that the DOP may and will have a decent knowledge of all of the above, but they may be involved deeply into creating images and completing the day's work for the producer/director. One should not be flaunting one's knowledge and position on the sets, because in the hierarchy, the DOP is much above the DIT. The DIT team has to be discreet in their approach to point out mistakes or accidents happening. DIT person should have the understanding of color and color space (shooting, viewing, display and deliverable color space) to be able to provide a look or a color to the RAW images being shot, which is a big help on set, to apply a predetermined 'look' or a LUT, or create one for the DOP/Director and also a 'look' laden transcoded shots for the edit.

(a) Online Screening Examination: It will be conducted in nine Engineering disciplines (codes 21-29) and in four Science disciplines (codes 41-43 and 45) at more than forty cities spread across India. The Online Screening Test for OCES/ DGFS-2021 will be held in September, 2021. Travel Allowance is not paid for appearing in it.

(b) GATE Score : Candidates will be screened in for Selection Interview on the basis of a valid GATE-2020 or GATE-2021 Score.

Cut-off GATE scores for screening into Selection Interviews will be decided only after the Online Test has concluded and candidates are therefore advised to maximize their chances of being screened into the Selection Interview stage by availing both of the screening avenues detailed above. Screening in of applicants in Nuclear Engineering (code 29) will be only through the Online Test.

Students graduated/ graduating with a Masters Degree from University of Mumbai – Department of Atomic Energy Centre for Excellence in Basic Sciences (UM-DAE CBS) and National Institute of Science Education and Research (NISER), Bhubaneswar in the academic year 2019-2020 / 2020-2021, and whose Cumulative Grade Performance Average (CGPA) is greater than or equal to 7.5 on a scale of 10 will directly be screened into the Selection Interview stage, provided they meet all other eligibility requirements of the OCES/DGFS-2021 program. It is to be noted that this option of being screened in based on CGPA can be exercised only once. Such candidates should first submit their application for the OCES/DGFS-2021 program on the Online Application Portal and subsequently forward their details through the Directors of their institutes.

Selection Interviews of short-listed candidates in all disciplines except Geology will be conducted at the BARC Training School, Mumbai. Interviews in Geology will be held in Hyderabad. Selection Interviews are tentatively scheduled to be held in October, 2021. The list of candidates short-listed for Selection Interview will be posted on the Online Application Portal in September, 2021. Short-listed candidates will be able to choose an Interview slot, based on availability, on the Online Application Portal, in September, 2021. Final Selection is solely on the basis of performance in Selection Interview, subject to medical fitness.

Other Opportunities : Candidates applying for OCES/DGFS-2021 may be considered for direct recruitment in ECIL and IPR. Such candidates will be governed by stipendiary norms of ECIL and IPR and terms and service conditions of ECIL and IPR respectively on absorption. A merit list created out of the Selection Interview Marks may also be used to offer admission to M.Sc (Engg.) / Ph.D. or Diploma in Radiological Physics programs of BARC under the aegis of HBNI in the academic year 2021-22. Students admitted to the M.Sc.(Engg.)/ Ph.D. program will be paid a Fellowship / Stipend for the duration of their academic program. Such candidates will be governed by stipendiary norms of ECIL and IPR and terms and service conditions of ECIL and IPR respectively on absorption. A merit list created out of the Selection Interview Marks may also be used to offer admission to M.Sc (Engg.) / Ph.D. or Diploma in Radiological Physics programs of BARC under the aegis of HBNI in the academic year 2021-22. Students admitted to the M.Sc.(Engg.)/ Ph.D. program will be paid a Fellowship / Stipend for the duration of their academic program. 4 YEARS OF GST : SIGNIFICANCE AND IMPACT Studies have found that the introduction of GST and the resultant removal of inter-state barriers resulted in a 20% reduction in turnaround times in the transport sector. A total of 194 crore e-waybills have been generated since the launch of the system, of which about 40% are for the inter-state transport of goods.

Addressing the issues faced by small taxpayers, the GST Council simplified the annual returns and its filing was made optional for small taxpayers having turnover upto Rs. 2 crore for F.Y. 2017-18, 2018-19, 2019-20 and 2020-21. Filing of 'Nil' GST returns through the SMS facility from the registered mobile number has been introduced which is expected to help almost 22 lakh Nil filers. A big step forward towards enhancing taxpayers' convenience.

For smaller taxpayers having aggregate turnover upto Rs. 5 crore, Quarterly Return and Monthly Payment scheme has been introduced w.e.f. 01.01.2021 wherein the taxpayers can file their GSTR-3B return quarterly instead of monthly, while they are required to pay tax monthly. The Quarterly Return and Monthly Payment Scheme was made operational on January 1, 2021 and is applicable for registered persons having turnover of up to Rs. 5 crore.

Overall, GST rates have been reduced on 400 goods and 80 services. Given that, in the pre-GST regime, the combined Centre and States rates were more than 31% on most of the items; this reduction marks a significant relief for the taxpayer. Common-use items such as hair oil, toothpaste, and soap have seen their tax rates come down from 29.3% in the pre-GST era to just 18% under GST. Appliances such as fridges, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, food grinders and mixers, shavers, hair clippers, water heaters, hair dryers, electric smoothing irons, TVs (up to 32 inches) have all seen tax rates lowered from 31.3% to 18% due to GST. The tax on cinema tickets, earlier anywhere between 35% to 110%, has been brought down to 12% (where ticket rate is up to Rs 100) and 18% in the GST regime. Most items of daily use are in the zero or 5% slab. Taxation on the construction of residential complexes saw a steep reduction in rates to 5% in general and 1% for affordable houses. That on restaurants were also brought down to 5%.

Substantial concessions have been extended to the agriculture sector in GST. On fertilisers, the net tax incidence was halved in GST. On agricultural machinery, the tax incidence has come down significantly from 15%/18% to 12% and on certain items from about 8% to 5%. The pre-GST tax incidence on chemical fertilisers was above 10%. (1% excise duty, 2.44% embedded excise duty, about 4% weighted average VAT and 2.5% CST, Octroi, etc.) while in the GST regime all types of chemical fertilisers only attract a 5% tax rate. Cattle feed, aquatic feed and poultry feed have all been kept at a Nil rate in GST, as have all kinds of seeds. In other words, these vital inputs in the agricultural process do not attract any tax under the GST system.

GST has replaced the complex indirect tax structure with a simple, transparent and technology-driven tax regime and has thus integrated India into a single common market. With the continuous simplification of procedures and rationalisation of rate structures so as to make GST compliance easy for common man as well as the trade, we have been able to achieve economic integration of the country with a humane touch. Earlier, the multiple markets across India, with each State charging a different rate of tax, led to great inefficiencies and costs of compliance. In these 4 years, GST has achieved better tax compliance through mitigation of tax cascading, double (multiple) taxation, lower tax burden, and has improved the competitiveness of domestic industries in the international market by removing hidden and embedded taxes.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE: BENEFITS AND PITFALLS

ability of a computer to imitate human behaviour is actually only the basic function of AI. Machine Learning and Deep Learning are the two subsets of AI. Machine Learning enables systems to make predictions or take decisions or learn from past data or experiences. It works on the algorithms which learn by its own using stored data. It allows computers to "witness" human behaviour through the intake of data and then undergo advanced processes to analyse that data and identify patterns within it. It uses a gigantic quantity of organised and partly organized data so that a tool or model of Machine Learning produces precise result or give predictions based on that data. Whereas, AI works on all category of data i.e. organized, partly organized and unorganized data. Machine Learning is the link between Data Science and Artificial Intelligence for the very reason that it is a process of learning from the data over time, while AI is the methodology that helps data science in accomplishing the goal of getting results and solution for a specific problem. Machine Learning is the technology which helps in achieving the set goal. Data science is not exactly a subset of Machine Learning but it uses Machine Learning tools to analyse data and make forecasts for the future. Data Science combines tools and methods of Machine Learning with big Data Analytics and Cloud Computing to enable the algorithms for predictions. Data Science is purely an applied application of Machine Learning with full attention and importance on solving real and material world problems.

Benefits of Artificial Intelligence

i) Bright and versatile career opportunities: The amalgamation of Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning and Deep Learning provides thoughtful path for individuals to make innovations. It also helps in terms of productivity and accuracy which ultimately helps in reshaping the world. We all have heard that AI is ready to replace a lot of jobs that humans do. Yes, it is true. Artificial Intelligence is one of the emerging technologies making its mark in every industry ranging from fashion to finance. It is creating more than 100 million roles in all the major sectors. AI has become intrinsic to key sectors like automobile industry, smart home devices, online customer support, security surveillance, retail, healthcare and many more. Therefore, AI provides bright and versatile career opportunities. Innovating and operating AI systems not only give you a decent salary but also a dynamic career trajectory. Job profiles can range from Machine Learning Engineer, Software Engineer, Hardware Engineer, Research Engineer, Business Intelligence Developer and even Data Scientist. Big employers like Google, Amazon, and Microsoft hire AI experts. People always think that AI draws its attention only in computer or space related industries whereas the reality is that Artificial intelligence has got everything in the bag to stand out from the crowd.

ii) Automation and smart decision making:

AI technology has ensured a lot of progress in the field of automation and is cited as one of the most remarkable benefits of modern technology. It has had momentous impact in the field of communications, transportation, consumer products, and service industries. Automation not only concentrates on increasing productivity but also allows more efficient use of raw materials, improved product quality, reduced lead times, and superior safety. AI technology can coordinate data delivery, analyse trends, develop data consistency, provide forecasts, and quantify uncertainties to make the best decisions for the company.

iii) Aiding medical sciences and solving complex problems:

AI has made enormous contribution in the field of healthcare. Remote patient monitoring technology, monitoring the progression of contagious diseases, prediction of future effects and outcomes, prompt suggestion for treatments, diagnoses of certain health condition without requiring the patient to visit the hospital are some of the key benefits of AI in medical fields.

iv) Research and data analysis:

AI helps in analysing the data in more efficient manner. The technology helps to create predictive models and algorithms to process data and understand the impending outcomes of different trends and scenarios. The advanced computing features of AI help in speeding up the processing and analysis of data for research and development.

v) Managing repetitive tasks and ensuring continuity:

AI powered robotic automation process helps in removing unnecessary repetition of tasks as well as performing repeated tasks. As risk management heavily relies on data management and analysis, AI-powered tools can help organizations to respond to the crisis proactively. AI technology not only helps companies to make critical decisions but also prepares them for any emergency to ensure business continuity.

Pitfalls of Artificial Intelligence

There are two sides to every coin. We, as humans, need to use our wisdom to utilize the positive side of any technology for creating a better world. There are many myths and theories that promote the fear of "rise of the robots." As on date, there is not a single application of AI which that can destroy or dominate humanity. Ultimately, it is a human driven resource made for the benefit of mankind. Nevertheless, the concern remain as to what will happen if the human quest for AI leads to an AI system so strong that it encompasses the human brains in all reasoning, intellectual and perceptive tasks?

In 1965, British Mathematician and Cryptologist I J Good, rightly pointed out that designing smarter AI systems in itself is a rational and thoughtful task. Discovering and revolutionizing the new technologies like Superintelligence help the society at large to exterminate war, disease, poverty and this is the reason why AI became the biggest and most important human innovation. Such a system could hypothetically experience recursive self-improvement, raising an intelligence explosion leaving human intellect far behind, thus triggering the concern whether such system could intentionally or unintentionally cause great harm to the human civilization. We can only hope that researchers will prepare a counter technology to inhibit possible negative consequences and ensure that humans continue to employ AI to their benefit while evading pitfalls.

Most of the researchers working in the AI domain think that any AI is unlikely to imitate complex human emotions like love or hate. Therefore, there is very less possibility for an AI system becoming deliberately compassionate or malicious. Scientists predict two negative scenarios that are most likely to happen if an AI system is not utilized properly.

i) Devastation: Autonomous weapons are artificial intelligence systems and their aim is to terminate objects they are programmed to kill. If it is given in the hands of wrong persons, these weapons could easily cause mass fatalities. To ensure greater efficacy, such weapons could be designed to be extremely difficult to simply turn them off, causing human intervention to fail. This risk is one that is present even in narrow AI, but grows as the level of AI increases.

ii) High expectation, low results: AI are generally designed for beneficial tasks but it cannot be guaranteed that the system completely achieves its goals or does not work contrary to its original objective. This can happen if we fail to fully align the AI's goals with ours. For example, if you ask an intelligent car to take you to the railway station as fast as possible, it might get you there in no time but may cause destruction on the way.

CAREER IN CINEMATOGRAPHY

At present there is no specialized course for DIT from any recognized institute. Private film school Whistling Woods International (WWI), Mumbai, may be adding the inputs about DIT in their curriculum, anytime soon in their coming academic year. For most who may not have Cinematography studies as a background, it is learnt on the job as an Intern to a team of Colorists in a post-production house or by picking up knowledge and equipment being a Camera Assistant/Associate. In these regards, Sid Meer, owner and colorist of Bridge Postworks, has a dedicated team of DITs, who go on shoots and some of them later work as Colorists for the DI of the same asset. As Sid Meer says, they

Trivia

- ◆ Director Blake Edwards was the first to use the beam-splitter single-camera system invented by engineer Jim Songer in the 1968 film The Party
- ◆ In India, R.M.Rao, FTII alumni and a well known advertising films Cinematographer, brought in the then new and innovative 'video assist' in 1992 from Germany through ARRI, as he owned cine cameras and put on rent his Arriflex Arri 3 and Arri 435 with flicker free video assist later in 1996.

are open to taking interns and assistants and full-fledged DITs who have it in them to make a mark.

Along with Sid, there is Neil Sadwekar, who is in the business for almost 10 years, working as a consultant and a DIT on 60 features, providing data and workflow management services to the Indian film community. It is not necessary that only a cinematography student/professional can work as a DIT.

It can even be a video editor or a sound person too, combining their respective editing and audio skills and knowledge of working on NL Edit/sound software systems. One should basically be in love with filmmaking and have an interest in this sort of work. According to Neil Sadwekar, he has given alternate career openings to many fresh editing graduates of FTII and WWI. So the best option after your Graduation, is to learn Filmmaking and your specializing craft (a must) from a reputed Institute like FTII, Pune or SRFTI, Kolkata and other regional and private institutes. As Neil adds, this background helps in being a DIT and get good introduction to the workflow, make contacts amongst producers, travel the world and settle down as DOP/Editor or continue as a DIT and embark upon a remarkable career option suited so well to the current ever-changing digital cinema requirements.

YUVA - PM's Mentoring Scheme for Young Authors

Preparing Thought Leaders of Tomorrow

Do you think you are a good writer?

Join the PM's

Mentoring
YUVA SCHEME

You could get a platform, mentorship & ₹50,000 per month!

Interview with Lt. Col. Yuvraj Malik Director, National Book Trust

The Ministry of Education has launched YUVA - Prime Minister's Scheme for Mentoring Young Authors to train budding authors below the age of 30 in order to promote reading, writing and book culture in the country and project India and Indian writing globally. The scheme is in tune with the Prime Minister's vision to encourage young writers to write about India's freedom struggle as we celebrate 75 years of Independence. Moreover, the National Education Policy 2020 emphasizes on empowering young minds and creating a learning ecosystem that can nurture young learners for future leadership roles. To foster this goal, YUVA will go a long way in cementing the foundation of these leaders of tomorrow. The books prepared under the scheme will be published by National Book Trust (NBT).

Employment News caught up with the Director of National Book Trust Lt. Col. Yuvraj Malik for a short interview on the YUVA scheme. The interviewer is S. Rangabashiam, a New Delhi based Freelance News Anchor with All India Radio.

1. What is YUVA - PM's scheme for mentoring young authors?

YUVA (Young, Upcoming and Versatile Authors) is a mentorship programme that emphasizes on empowering the young minds and creating a learning eco-system that will enable young writers/authors of the country to represent India and Indian writings globally. The scheme has been conceptualized on the premise that the twenty-first century India needs to groom a generation of young authors to create ambassadors of Indian literature. Under the scheme, aspiring young writers under the age of 30 years can send in their manuscripts in any of the 22 Scheduled languages of India or English. After a comprehensive assessment process, 75 manuscripts will be selected to be developed and published by National Book Trust, India. Borrowing from the PM's vision of Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat, this will be the first-ever multi-lingual authors' mentorship programme at the national level that will provide a platform to the young writers to pen their thoughts on various known and unknown facets of the National Movement as part of the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav programmes.

2. How will NBT ensure that the books published under the scheme are of quality and the scheme will be beneficial for the aspiring young writers?

NBT has a wide pool of resources at its disposal for the young writers participating in the scheme. The selection of the top 75 will be done by an expert panel constituted by NBT. A two-week programme will be organized where the selected young writers will be extensively trained by eminent authors/mentors from our panel of accomplished authors and writers. The mentorship process will be undertaken by language specific authors/mentors that will especially help the young writers express themselves better in their language of preference. The young writers will get to expand their understanding through participation in various national and international literary events, books fair, cultural exchange programmes, etc. that NBT regularly organises and participates in. This scheme aims to encourage young writers to hone their craft so that they can optimize their potential and become thought leaders of the future.

3. What are the salient features of the scheme?

Any young Indian who has a knack for writing and is below the age of 30 years (as of June 01, 2021) is eligible to take part in the scheme. 75 promising young writers will be selected through an All-India contest that is being held on nbtindia.gov.in/MyGov.in from June 1-July 31 2021. The contest for participation is open in all 22 Scheduled languages recognised by the Constitution of India as well as English. The selected young writers will be awarded Rs 50,000 per month for 6 months and 10% royalty upon successful publication of their books. It is an opportunity that is not to be missed by any young mind of our nation. In tune with the PM's vision of Global Citizen and Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat, the scheme will prove to be a step forward in helping India establish herself as Vishwa Guru.

4. This is a first of its kind scheme at the national level. How will National Book Trust, India be a part of this scheme?

National Book Trust, India has been providing affordable and accessible books and reading material since the last 64 years. As the implementing agency for the scheme, National Book Trust, India will ensure the phase-wise execution of the scheme under well-defined stages of mentorship. The scheme has been subdivided into two phases of 3 months each - (i) training, (ii) promotion. The first phase shall focus on the mentorship aspect, wherein the young writers will be trained by eminent authors/mentors under NBT's advisory panel on the eco-system of publishing. In the second phase, the authors will be given a chance to interact at various national and international literary platforms. It is in this phase that their books will be published and translated in other Indian languages.

5. What is the vision behind keeping national movement as the theme for PM's YUVA scheme?

Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, in his Mann Ki Baat, on January 31, called upon youngsters to write about the freedom fighters, events associated with them and tales of valour during the freedom struggle from their areas. This became the vision behind the scheme as the national movement was the defining period of India's history. The idea is to acquaint the youth with the freedom struggle and to bring to fore their perspective on the national movement in a creative and innovative manner. While preparing them as authors and creative leaders of the future, this scheme will ensure to bring to centre-stage the rich heritage of accumulated ancient Indian wisdom.
