STUDY AND CAREER AVENUES FOR COMMERCE STUDENTS

Vijay Prakash Srivastava

Few subjects never lose their relevance. Commerce is an evergreen subject and for many students a preferred choice. Even when a degree in engineering or technology is one of the most sought after qualifications, there is no decrease in the popularity of commerce. One major advantage with commerce is that one does not have to spend a lot for studying this subject whereas courses in engineering, medicine, architecture etc. require huge financial cost particularly at private institutions. So a commerce education is economical. But you should choose commerce only if you find the subject interesting and have an aptitude for it.

Commerce can be chosen as stream of study at 10+2 level. However, if you have been a student of science, you may take admission to a B.Com course after your 12th standard. Admission to a commerce course is mostly merit based. Your score in the previous examination will be taken into account to determine your entry to the course. You are not required to go through tests like JEE or NEET needed for entry to many engineering medical and few other professional courses.

Commerce is mainly concerned with trade and business activities such as sale of goods and services by producer to retailer and the end user. As a commerce student, you will be studying accounting principles, economics, business and investment strategies. The subject will enable you to prepare balance sheets, trading accounts, profit and loss statements and various other statements depicting the financial health of a business. You will also learn about business accounting.

To gain entry to a commerce based career you should have at least a B.Com degree. It takes three years to complete this degree. While a plain B.Com is offered by most of the institutes, some also offer it in varied form such as B.Com in Banking and Insurance, B.Com in Taxation and with other combinations. After becoming a commerce graduate, you have a number of options. You may go for postgraduation in Commerce (M.Com) which will take another two years. Even if you decide not to pursue M.Com, you have a number of options for further studies such as Management: Those who are keen to grow into a management professional, a postgraduate degree/diploma in Management makes complete sense. In many respects, students of commerce will find the course familiar and easy to understand. The course you choose should be full time with duration of two

Highlights of 78th Episode of PM's Mann ki Baat

- When Talent, Dedication, Determination and Sportsman Spirit come together, only then a champion is made. In our country, most of the sportspersons hail from the smaller towns and villages. Our team that is going to Tokyo too has many such players whose lives inspire us a lot. Praveen Jadhav (Archer from Satara district of Maharashtra), Neha Goyal (Hockey player from Haryana), Deepika Kumari (Archer from Haryana), Priyanka Goswami (Race-walker from Muzaffarnagar in Uttar Pradesh), Shivpal Singh (Javelin thrower from Banaras), Chirag Shetty and his partner Satwiksairaj (Men's Double Shuttle Competition), Manish Kaushik (Boxer from Bhiwani in Haryana), C.A. Bhavani Devi (Fencer from Chennai) and many other players have struggled a lot. The players going to Tokyo faced scarcity of means and resources in their childhood, but they persevered, and endured with fortitude. Every player going to Tokyo has had one's own share of struggle, and years of toil. They are going not only for themselves but for the country. These players also have to enhance the glory of India and win the hearts of the people and that is why my countrymen I want to advise you too, that we should not pressurize these players knowingly or unknowingly, but support them with an open mind and bolster the enthusiasm of every player.
- Friends, when we are talking of the Tokyo Olympics, how can one forget the legendary athlete Milkha Singh. Some days ago, Corona snatched him away from us. When he was in hospital, I got an opportunity to talk to him. While talking to him I had urged him to boost the morale of our athletes going for the Olympics. He was so committed and emotional for sports that he immediately gave his consent even during his illness. We all know that the entire family of Milkha Singh has been dedicated to sports and has been adding to the glory of India.
- On the June 21, the next phase of the vaccination campaign commenced... and that very day, the country registered a record of administering vaccines to over 86 lakh people, free of cost...and this indeed is the strength of New India. But we have to keep making efforts to ensure that every citizen is able to avail safety through the vaccine. Rajesh Hiraawe and Kishorilal Durve from Gram Panchayat Duluriya, Bhimpur Block shared their experience about hesitancy to vaccine because of rumours and misleading information. We should not pay attention to rumours at all. Through the year many senior scientists have put in hardwork to make this vaccine and that is why we have to believe in science and scientists. Explain to these propagators of falsehood that many people have taken vaccine and nothing untoward happens. We have to save lives...we have to save our villages...and our countrymen. If someone says Corona is gone, do not be under this mistaken notion. To

- protect ourselves, we have two ways. One is adhering to the protocol for Corona — wearing a mask, frequently washing hands with soap, maintaining distancing...and the other way is ... along with all this, getting vaccinated.
- Someday this will be a subject of case study for the world that how during this Corona period people of villages of India, our forest dwelling tribal brothers-sisters displayed their capabilities and understanding. People of villages set up quarantine centres, made Covid protocol as per local requirements. People of villages did not let anybody sleep hungry, did not let work in fields stop either. The villages also ensured daily supply of milk and vegetables to nearby cities that is, they took care of themselves and of others too. We have to maintain the same spirit in the vaccination campaign too. We have to be aware and make others aware too. We have to keep making efforts continuously... register victory over Corona.
- When the clouds rain, they rain not only for us, but also for the generations to come! I consider water conservation as a form of service to the country. Satchidanand Bharti ji of Pauri Garhwal, Uttarakhand is a teacher and has imparted very good education to the people through his deeds. The huge water crisis in the Ufrainkhal area of Pauri Garhwal has come to an end because of his hard work and today, there is continuous supply of water throughout the year. In the hills there exists a traditional method of water conservation, Chalkhal. It involves digging a big pit to collect water. Bharti ji added some new methods to this tradition and turned the hills of Ufrainkhal green along with solving the problem of shortage of drinking water.
- The people of Andhav village in Banda district of UP have also made an innovative effort and have given a very interesting name to their campaign — 'Khet ka pani khet mein, gaon ka pani gaon mein'. Under this campaign, high bunds have been raised in several hundred bighas of fields of the village. As a result, rainwater started collecting in the field, and started percolating into the ground.

- There are many trees and plants around us which have amazing medicinal properties, but many times we do not even know about them. Paritosh from Nainital came to know about miraculous medicinal properties of Giloy and many other plants only after the outbreak of Corona! Also Mr. Ramlotan Kushwaha from Satna of Madhya Pradesh has built a museum of indigenous plants on his farm, where he has collected hundreds of medicinal plants and seeds. Apart from this, he also grows many types of Indian vegetables every year.
- India celebrates National Doctors Day on the July 1, dedicated to the birth anniversary of the great doctor and statesman of the country, Dr B.C. Roy. We are all grateful for the contribution of doctors in the Corona period. It is our duty to thank them with an equal measure of affection and encourage them. Boat Ambulance Service was started at Dal Lake in Srinagar by Tariq Ahmad Patloo. He himself has also fought the battle with COVID-19 and this inspired him to start the Ambulance Service. A campaign is also underway to make people aware of this ambulance, and continuous announcements from the ambulance are being made by him.
- Chartered Accountants Day is also celebrated on July 1. Chartered Accountants can play a very worthy and positive role in bringing transparency to the economy. I extend my best wishes to all Chartered Accountants and their family members.
- Each and every person of the country has played their part in India's fight against Corona. Bank staff, teachers, small traders or shopkeepers, people working in shops, street vendors, security watchmen, postmen and post office employees... and innumerable people involved with government and administration at different levels have all contributed. Guru Prasad Mohapatra, Secretary to the Government of India, was diagnosed with Corona and was admitted in the hospital, yet he was performing his official duties. He toiled day and night to increase the Oxygen producing capacities of the country and to ensure that Oxygen reached far flung areas, regardless of himself being on the hospital bed. It is sad for all of us that the country has also lost this Karma Yogi. There are countless people who have never been discussed. Our tribute to every such person would be that we follow the COVID protocol fully, get our vaccinations done.

- Thiru R. Guruprasad from Chennai expressed his pride in Tamil language and compiled an e-book describing the greatness of Tamil language, culture, festivals and major places in Tamil Nadu as discussed in 'Mann Ki Baat'. Every Indian should cherish and feel proud that the most ancient language of the world belongs to our country. I take a lot of pride in Tamil.
- 15th August is also approaching and Amrit Mahotsav of 75 years of Independence is a big inspiration for us. Let us learn to live for the country. The Struggle for Independence is the story of those who died for the country. We have to make this post-Independence time the story of those who live for the country. Our mantra should be India First. We have to revive the history related to our freedom fighters by remembering them. Young talents should come forward and research and write history of the freedom struggle with new energy. It is a matter of joy that the youth who have been born and brought up in the 21st century have taken up cudgels to bring to the forefront the history of the Freedom Struggle of 19th and 20th century. These writings on the freedom struggle will be in different languages such as Hindi, English, Tamil, Kannada, Bengali, Telugu, Marathi, Malayalam, Gujarati. Topics are associated with the freedom struggle—gathering information about the places around them, and writing on tribal freedom fighters. I request all of you to join the Amrit Mahotsav, in whichever way you can. It is our good fortune that we are witness to the festival of 75 years of our Independence.

STUDY AND CAREER AVENUES FOR ...

years and recognized by All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE). You will be required to choose a specialization. Though most of commerce students go for specialization in finance, considering your liking you may choose from other options like marketing, HR, information technology, operations management, agri-business management, etc.

Law: To pursue a bachelor's degree in law (LLB) you should already be a graduate. Your B.Com qualification can be a gateway for a degree in law leading to a legal career. You may choose from three-year graduate degree programme conducted at colleges, universities and law schools/universities. You may start working immediately thereafter but have options to go for LLM or specialized courses in corporate law, etc. These days integrated programmes combining commerce and law are also available with nomenclature as B.Com LLB. Such a programme takes five years to complete, saving you one year if you go for B.Com and LLB separately. In few cases exit option is available after B.Com allowing you to leave the course after completing B.Com, if you decide to do something other than LLB.

Computer Applications: Many people think that only those who have studied computer or information science earlier can pursue a course in Master of Computer Applications (MCA). While commerce graduates are not eligible to apply for ME or M.Tech, MCA is a viable option for them. With knowledge of commerce and computers, they can take up a career in business computing. MCA is usually a three-year course and is offered at a number of institutes.

Chartered Accountancy: This course is conducted and regulated by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). For this course, you do not have to necessarily join any college or university. The course is a combination of self-learning, contact classes and practical training and can be joined after 10+2 and passing common proficiency test conducted by ICAI. The course is divided into Intermediate and Final. After completing Final, you may become a member of ICAI which helps in placement of its students. Bachelor in Commerce can be pursued with CA course.

There is another route to become a CA. Commerce graduates/postgraduates with minimum 55% marks and other graduates/postgraduates with 60% marks may enroll with the institute for intermediate course first. After completion of this level, they have to complete practical training and articleship. By completing the final examination, the candidate can enroll as a member of ICAI and is designated as a chartered accountant.

Cost Accountancy: This is similar to CA qualification, though the course content is largely different. This course is conducted and regulated by the Institute of Cost Accountants of India which was previously known as Institute of Cost and Works Accountants of India.

Chartered Financial Analyst: This is an international certification offered by CFA Institute based in the United States of America and is made available in our country. The CFA Program is meant to provide a strong foundation in advanced investment analysis and portfolio management skills. Graduates may enroll for this self-paced course with online format. The course is divided into three levels. Becoming a CFA may open doors for global careers mostly in private organizations.

Accounting, auditing and consulting careers are open to qualified Chartered/Cost accountants and Chartered Financial Analysts.

Company Secretary: Company secretaryship is also a promising career option for commerce students. The course is conducted by the Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI). Candidates opting for this Course after 10+2 pass in commerce or equivalent have to undergo three stages to pursue it. These stages include Foundation Programme, Executive Programme and Professional Programme. Those who join after passing graduation have to undergo only two stages—Executive and Professional. For both the groups Professional Programme can be pursued only after clearing the Executive Programme of the Company Secretaries Course. This course also works on the model of CA course. However since 2014, ICSI has started a 3 years full time course for those who are graduates with 50% marks or have passed the Foundation course. This course is conducted at Navi Mumbai and has limited seats.

There are many other careers suited for commerce students.

Banking: As we all know, banks in India, mostly government banks, are recruiting in considerable numbers and thus there is better opportunity for jobseekers there. Banking is a major subject in the curriculum prescribed for Commerce students. Commerce graduates may apply for clerical and officers' position in banks whenever the vacancies are advertised. In many cases, private and cooperative banks prefer candidates with commerce background though it may not be specifically mentioned in the advertisement for recruitment. In addition to mainstream banking, jobs are also available in merchant banking, investment banking, etc. A banking career can be sought in public sector banks as well as private, cooperative, multinational and payment banks.

Insurance: India is considered an underinsured country, thus offering immense growth opportunities for insurance business. Insurance business comprises of life and non-life insurance which is sub-divided further. Insurance business in our country is being done by both public and private sector companies which one may join as an agent, accounting/finance professional or as an actuary. To become an actuary, you need to do a course in actuarial science. Number of actuaries available being less, they carry better demand.

Stockbroking: In India, the business volume at stock exchanges is increasing as more and more people are investing in shares. Sale and purchase of shares happens through Securities & Exchange Board of India (SEBI) registered stock-brokers. You may join any such stock broking firm where your job may be dealing with clients' orders, offering them advice, equity research, etc. Such jobs are available mostly in big cities. It is also possible to work as sub-broker which is possible to pursue at smaller towns and cities as well.

Auditing: There are many auditing firms which employ chartered accountants and commerce graduates to carry out audit work or assist their senior auditors. Audit of accounts is mandatory for banks and other listed companies and has to be conducted through recognized audit firms. While few audit firms operate at local are regional level, there or others which work on all India basis or globally.

Teaching: Those with M.Com qualification may opt for a teaching career. You may become a teacher for secondary or higher classes and with management education institutions. Also, there are many coaching institutes which help students to prepare for courses and certification with input of commerce. Giving private tuitions is also an option.

Consulting: Those with a commerce background and preferably some experience have great opportunities in consulting. There are a number of areas for consulting viz. auditing (advising companies to prepare for audit), income tax, service tax, value added tax etc. With the implementation of Goods and Services Tax (GST), there are more opportunities for consultants who specialize in this area. Financial planning is also an area of consulting for which you may choose to join Certified Financial Planner course. You may work as an independent consultant and also have the opportunity to join firms providing consultancy services such as Deloitte, Edelweiss, etc.

Forensic accounting/auditing: Forensic accounting or auditing is an emerging area which commerce students may join after taking specialized training. One may work with agencies working in these areas, banks and investigation bodies.

Risk management: Commerce students may also plan to work as risk management professionals by obtaining required certifications. As businesses are now getting more fraught with risks, qualified risk managers are sought in more numbers to manage such risks.

Wealth advising: High networth people seek the services of wealth advisers. Commerce professionals are well suited for this job and after being trained/certified in the discipline, they may join firms engaged in wealth advising firms or may work independently.

Places to work
Based on the nature of work as described above, your place of work will be decided which may be a bank, educational institute, consulting or audit firm. Additionally with a commerce qualification, you may seek career opportunities with:

Corporate Sector: In every big and medium size company, including information technology companies, there is an accounts/finance department consisting of head of department and supporting team members. With a qualification in commerce, you may take junior positions in the team and grow with experience.

Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs): There are a number of NBFCs of various sizes operating in the country, offering a host of services related to finance which require expertise of commerce professionals. Big NBFCs have branches all over the country.

E-commerce companies: Big e-commerce companies handle large number of transactions every day requiring massive exercise of record maintenance, accounting and billing for which a qualification in commerce may come handy.

After studying commerce you may also find work opportunities with export and import companies, small and medium enterprises (SMEs), mutual fund companies, trusts, non-governmental organizations, family businesses, etc. mainly in their account section.

To make an excellent career with commerce, you should have a flair for numbers as most of the time you will be dealing with figures and numbers. Also, you should have a logical and analytical bent of mind which will help you in analyzing balance sheets, profit and loss statements and other financial statistics. All these traits can be developed with sincere efforts.

Olympic Games: Past and Present

The 2020 Summer Olympics, officially the Games of the XXXII Olympiad, are scheduled to be held from July 23-August 8, 2021 in Japan's Tokyo. Originally scheduled to take place in 2020, the Games were postponed due to COVID-19 pandemic. The 2020 Games will mark the second time that Japan has hosted the Summer Olympic Games, the first being also in Tokyo in 1964, making this the first city in Asia to host the Summer Games twice. The mascot for the Tokyo Games is named Miraitowa. Japanese words "mirai" mean "future" and "towa" mean "eternity", representing "the wish that the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games will lead to a future of everlasting hope in the hearts of everyone around the world."

What are Olympics?

The Olympic Games is a quadrennial (held every four years) international multi-sport event celebrated as a global sports festival by people all over the world. The Games are the largest sporting celebration in the number of sports on the programme, the number of athletes present and the number of people from different nations gathered together at the same time in the same place.

The roots of today's Games date back to the ancient Olympic Games, held over 2,000 years ago. Also known as the "Olympiad", the event took place in the Olympia region of ancient Greece. It is believed that the event was an athletic and artistic festival dedicated to the worship of the gods. However, the ancient Olympic Games were hindered by numerous conflicts and finally came to an end in 393 AD. Fifteen hundred years later in 1892, a French educator named Baron Pierre de Coubertin began the Olympic revival movement. De Coubertin's idea to reinstate the Olympic Games was presented to the audience at the international congress in Paris, 1894 and his proposal was unanimously approved. Two years later the first modern Olympic Games were held in Athens, Greece, the homeland of the ancient Olympic Games. The date of the first Games, 1896, marked the beginning of an extraordinary adventure that has now lasted for over a century. De Coubertin is thus revered as the "Father of the Olympics".

What do the five rings of the Games signify?

The well-known five rings symbol of the Olympic Games were also created by Baron de Coubertin, to express the solidarity of the world's five continents. According to the Olympic Charter, "the Olympic symbol consists of five interlaced rings of equal dimensions (the Olympic rings), used alone, in one or in five different colours. When used in its five-colour version, these colours shall be, from left to right, blue, yellow, black, green and red. The rings are interlaced from left to right; the blue, black and red rings are situated at the top, the yellow and green rings at the bottom." The Charter says "the Olympic symbol expresses the activity of the Olympic Movement and represents the union of the five continents and the meeting of athletes from throughout the world at the Olympic Games." The symbol has gone through several changes over the years. Today, there are seven official versions of the Olympic rings. The full-colour version on its white background is the preferred version.

What is International Olympic Committee?

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) is the guardian of the Olympic Games and the leader of the Olympic Movement. Established on June 23, 1894, the IOC is a not-for-profit independent international organisation. Based in Lausanne, Switzerland, the Olympic Capital, it is entirely privately funded and distributes 90 per cent of its revenues to the wider sporting movement, for the development of sport and athletes at all levels. The organisation acts as a catalyst for collaboration between all Olympic stakeholders, including the athletes, the National Olympic Committees, the International Federations, Organising

What are Summer and Winter Games?

The Olympic Games are held in both the summer and winter. The Olympics include the Games of the Olympiad (i.e., the Summer Games) and the Olympic Winter Games. The first edition of the modern Summer Games was held in 1896 in Athens (Greece) and the first Olympic Winter Games in 1924 in Chamonix (France). The word Olympiad designates the four-year period that

EN Explains

Committees for the Olympic Games, the Worldwide Olympic Partners and Olympic broadcast partners. It also collaborates with public and private authorities including the United Nations and other international organisations.

What are the various sports in the Olympics?

The Olympic programme includes all the sports in the Olympic Games. The IOC sets the programme and decides which sports will be included. The IOC also has the right to add or remove any sport. In order to be included in the Olympic programme, a sport must be governed by an International Federation which complies with the Olympic Charter and applies the World Anti-Doping Code. If it is widely practised around the world and satisfies a number of criteria established by the IOC Session, a recognised sport may be added to the Olympic programme.

In Athens in 1896, nine sports were on the programme: athletics, cycling, fencing, gymnastics, weightlifting, wrestling, swimming, tennis and shooting. The Olympic programme has come a long way since then: some sports have been discontinued (e.g., polo and baseball); others were dropped and then reintroduced (e.g., archery and tennis), while several new sports have been added (e.g., triathlon and taekwondo). The two major sports on the programme of the Summer Games are athletics and swimming. Athletics consists of a wide range of events: jumping, throwing, and sprint, middle-distance and long-distance races. Winter sports include sports like bobsleigh, curling, ice hockey, figure and speed skating, skiing (cross-country and ski jumping) and the military patrol race. The three main sports on the Winter Games programme are skating, skiing and ice hockey.

separates each edition of the Summer Games. Until 1992, the Summer and Winter Games were held in the same year, but since then, the Winter Games were moved two years from the Summer Games. The Summer and Winter Games continue to be organised once every four years. In the Summer Games, athletes compete in a wide variety of competitions on the track, on the road, on grass, in the water, on the water, in the open air and indoors, in a total of 28 sports. The Winter Games feature seven sports practised on snow and ice, both indoors and outdoors.

Olympics Trivia

- The modern Olympic Games were long open only to amateur athletes. The IOC abolished this rule in 1984 (for the Games in Los Angeles), and since then professional athletes have also been able to take part.

- As in Ancient Greece, there were no female athletes at the first edition of the modern Olympic Games. Women made their Olympic debut at the 1900 Games in Paris (France), in tennis and golf. It was not until the 2012 Games in London, with the introduction of women's boxing, that women could compete in all the sports on the programme. Since the 2004 Games in Athens, more than 40 per cent of the athletes at the Games have been women.

- The 1912 Games in Stockholm (Sweden) were the first to boast the presence of national delegations from the five continents. The universality of the modern Olympic Games was assured.
- The IOC has approved the list of 29 refugee athletes who will compete in Tokyo under the Olympic flag. Kenya's Tegla Loroupe, Olympian and former marathon world-record holder, will be the IOC Refugee Olympic Team's Chef de Mission. The athletes were selected from among the refugee athletes currently supported by the IOC through the Olympic Scholarships for Refugee Athletes programme. During the opening ceremony on July 23, the refugee athletes, from 13 host National Olympic Committees competing in 12 sports, will be entering the stadium "in second position immediately after Greece".
